ISO SERVICES

Numerous businesses encounter challenges in maintaining a consistent provision of products and services that meet both the requirements of their customers and regulations while also improving their environmental sustainability and preventing work-related injuries and illnesses. Implementing ISO 9001:2015, ISO 14001:2015, and ISO 45001:2018 can assist businesses in overcoming these hurdles and enhancing their overall management systems.

ISO is a non-governmental organisation that develops and publishes international standards to ensure product and service quality, safety and efficiency. ISO 9001:2015 specifies requirements for a quality management system, ISO 14001:2015 specifies requirements for an environmental management system, and ISO 45001:2018 specifies requirements for an occupational health and safety management system. These standards apply to any organisation and can be used in whole or in part to improve management systems. Claims of conformity to these standards are not acceptable unless all requirements are fulfilled without exclusion.
